DEMONBREUN, RICHARD A.

BPR # 014565

November 21, 2000

Public censure on November 21, 2000. He sent a targeted solicitation letter to a potential client in a personal injury/property damage matter only 2 days after the recipient's auto accident. The rules requires that a lawyer wait until 30 days after an accident before mailing targeted communications. His solicitation letter further violated the rules by not disclosing how he obtained the information prompting the communication, and by claiming in the letter there were no costs to the client unless the client was compensated.
