NASHVILLE LAWYER CENSURED

On January 13, 2021, Samantha Flener, an attorney licensed to practice law in Tennessee, received a Public Censure from the Board of Professional Responsibility of the Tennessee Supreme Court.

Ms. Flener was licensed to practice law only in New York when she relocated to Tennessee and began work at a Tennessee law firm. Ms. Flener applied for permission to be admitted by UBE Score Transfer with the Board of Law Examiners and her application referenced the need to apply for practice pending admission if she was currently working in Tennessee as a lawyer or other law-related position. Ms. Flener also certified on the application that she had read Tennessee Supreme Court Rule 7 and the Board policies and procedures posted on its website. Ms. Flener did not apply for practice pending admission and was not authorized to practice law in Tennessee until after she had been employed as a firm lawyer for a period of eight months.

By these acts, Ms. Flener has violated Rule of Professional Conduct 5.5 (unauthorized practice of law) and is hereby Publicly Censured for this violation.

A Public Censure is a rebuke and warning to the attorney, but it does not affect the attorney's ability to practice law.
