WILLIAMSON COUNTY LAWYER CENSURED

On October 9, 2026, Christina H. Zettersten, an attorney licensed to practice law in Tennessee, received a Public Censure from the Board of Professional Responsibility of the Tennessee Supreme Court.

Ms. Zettersten represented custodial guardians of a child in a juvenile court matter in which motions were set for hearing. Ms. Zettersten was informed that the judge would be several hours late for the scheduled hearing, and she became upset and made loud disruptive complaints in the courtroom. Ms. Zettersten stated loudly that she would file a disciplinary complaint against the guardian ad litem related to an earlier hearing. During the hearing, Ms. Zettersten repeatedly argued about a prior ruling of the court not at issue that day, and she stated that she intended to file a disciplinary complaint against the judge.

By these acts, Christina Hammond Zettersten has violated Rules of Professional Conduct 4.4(a)(1) (respect for rights of third persons), 3.5(e) (conduct intended to disrupt a tribunal), and 8.4(d) (prejudice to the administration of justice) and is hereby publicly censured for these violations.

A Public Censure is a rebuke and warning to the attorney, but it does not affect the attorney's ability to practice law.
